To serve as a Mass Minister, Catechist or CCE Volunteer, on a parish council, etc, you must be certified in the diocesan Ethics & Integrity in Ministry (EIM) course, but please don't let this stop you from volunteering, as it is an easy process that only takes 2 hours of your time every three years. EIM Policies require all clergy, religious, seminarians, employees and adult volunteers serving in any EIM compliance-required ministry to submit an EIM Application for Ministry (www.austindiocese.org/application) (one-time only) and attend an in-person EIM Workshop (www.austindiocese.org/initial-eim-training) within 60 days, and update/renew compliance at least once every three years. Online EIM Training (www.austindiocese.org/onlineeimtraining) is available for existing applicants who have previously attended a workshop and are due to update/renew their EIM compliance. Please contact parish office with any questions or assistance.

Ethics & Integrity in Ministry (EIM) Workshop – HERE – on Tuesday, August 13th, at 6:30 p.m. in the RE Bldg. If you would like to become EIM compliant (which you must be in order to serve in a ministry in the parish), then sign-up for this workshop ASAP. IF YOU PLAN TO ATTEND THIS – OR ANY OTHER WORKSHOP – YOU NEED TO DO SOME THINGS PRIOR TO THE CLASS! You will actually register for the workshop on the diocesan website. If you don't have access to the internet, you may contact the parish office and we will help you out. But, for those of you who do, please go online (VIRTUS.org) and follow all of the directions on the Ethics & Integrity in Ministry page.

The third annual Czech Catholic Foundation of Texas (CCFT) Youth Essay Contest is open and invites 11th or 12th grade students who are members of CCFT, KJZT, or KJT to compete. Dear friends in Christ, Praised be Jesus Christ! This weekend we welcome four priests from the Czech Republic: Fr. Lukáš Jambor, Fr. Josef Biernát, Fr. Petr Káňa, and Fr. Tomáš Gregůrek. They will be here until this Wednesday and then return to the Czech Republic. Let us help them to feel at home.

In today's Gospel it is written, "When he (Jesus) disembarked and saw the vast crowd, his heart was moved with pity for them, for they were like sheep without a shepherd; and he began to teach them many things." Jesus experienced an interruption in what He wanted to do. He wanted to get away with His apostles and get some much needed rest. But, He was interrupted. Many of us have to deal with interruptions on a daily basis. When this happens we often lose our train of thought and forget what we were going to say and do. At times, interruptions can be very frustrating. Many times these interruptions do more than just cause us temporary frustration or inconvenience, they can change our life forever. Life does not always unfold as we have planned it.

Mothers of small children may know that better than most of us. It's 10:00 o'clock at night. Your only plan is to go to bed and get a good night's sleep. Then about midnight you hear that dreaded cry. Your child is sick and has vomited all over the bed. You strip the bed, change her, and start over. She wakes up crying several times during the night. Finally about 6:00 o'clock, she is sound asleep and it is time for you to wake up. Your plan for a good night's sleep has been gloriously interrupted. However, it goes with the territory of being a mother.

Some interruptions are far more serious. You are near retirement. Your financial future is reasonably secure. You and your spouse plan to work in your garden, travel a little, and enjoy some well-deserved leisure. Then suddenly he dies, and all your plans have to be revised. Interruption.

Maybe you are in college and have made plans for your life. Then suddenly you fail a couple of classes or cannot afford to continue your studies for various reasons. Interruption. Your plans must be changed.

No one is exempt from these kind of interruptions. Jesus had to deal with interruptions. There wasn't a single day in His life when He wasn't interrupted. Mark tells us that when Jesus saw the crowd, His first reaction was pity. He could have reacted differently. Those people were imposing on His time. It was supposed to be His day off. And he had every right to a day off. He had been working non-stop for no telling how long. The crowds would not even let Him and the disciples take time out to eat. They deserved a good rest. They tried to take one, but it was not to be.

You and I might have grumbled at being bothered on our day off or during a time when we are trying to rest. Well, I know I have grumbled because of interruptions. I am not proud of these grumbings. Sometimes my grumbings are a hindrance to my ministry. But Jesus acted differently. The crowd reminded Him of sheep without a shepherd. They did not know where to go or what to do. To Jesus, they were a sad sight. His pity turned to action and He taught them at great length. He gave them His time, even though it was supposed to be His day off. He wanted them to know how important they were to God. And the only way to make that lesson believable was by showing them that they were also important to Him.

Jesus was aware of His own weary body and mind. And He had not forgotten the exhaustion of His disciples. But He was more conscious of the needs of the crowd. You do not wait until you are interrupted to develop that kind of sensitivity to people. That is something that must be done in the regular routine of life. We must teach ourselves to be aware of human needs. We must become a shepherd to those who are lost in hatred, or in cynicism, or in fear, or in gossip. Will we allow ourselves to be used long enough to tell them that God cares, by showing them that we care?

Interruptions are a part of life. Some of them are tragic, and some are rather trivial. But if we allow it, all of them can be used to the benefit of people and the glory of God. Jesus did that. He took a disrupted holiday and used it to show five thousand people the love of God. The next time we are interrupted, we might use it to show one person the same thing.

May all of you have a most blessed week.

Fr. Stephen Nesrsta, farář

K ZAMYŠLENÍ: Nelze přehlédnout, že Pán Ježíš vidí potřebu odpočinku a sám navrhuje unaveným učedníkům „dovolenou“. Bůh je přítelem odpočinku! Zavedení sedmého dne jako dne odpočinku není náhodné, je to Boží příkázání. Je to den, kdy máme slavit a děkovat za dary, které jsme během práce užívali a ze kterých nyní žijeme. Možná dnes potřebujeme nově definovat sami sobě, jak takový čas prožít, aby vedl jak ke zotavení těla, tak i zotavení duše, ale i rodiny, vztahů a sebe sama. Ale ani zde nesmíme být tvrdí tak, že bychom přestali vidět lidi okolo nás. Je tedy třeba moudře rozlišit, kdy má člověk nasadit síly, i když je unavený a má právo na odpočinek, a kdy je možné poslat potřebné za jinými nebo jejich žádost odložit na později a sami „vypnout“, být s rodinou, být s Bohem nebo sami se sebou. Décimo Sexto Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario: La segunda lectura de la Liturgia esta semana habla de que Cristo es nuestra paz. La paz a la cual Pablo se refiere es la paz que sabemos que tenemos con Dios a través de Cristo ya que nuestra separación de Dios ha sido sanada por la muerte y resurrección de Cristo. Enraizados, como ahora estamos, en el amor de Dios y en su paz, podemos ser paz para otros a través de nuestras vidas y acciones. Esta paz se manifiesta más completamente cuando mostramos respeto por otros, incluso nuestros enemigos. Con la gracia y el amor de Dios, podemos, a través de nuestros pensamientos, palabras y acciones, mostrar sólo buena voluntad y respeto hacia todos, divulgando así la paz para nuestro mundo roto ¿Cómo puede usted ser un hacedor de paz esta semana?
