Dear friends in Christ,

Can you feel it? There is a different feeling in the air now that we have begun this month of November and as people begin to prepare for Thanksgiving, Advent and Christmas. I hope you are able to allow yourself to experience the presence of the Spirit during this time of year. Take time to allow the Spirit to work within you so that you are filled with the peace, love and joy that Jesus gives to those who live in Him.

This weekend is CSA pledge Sunday. Most of you should have received your Catholic Services Appeal pledge envelopes in the mail. Please be generous in supporting the Diocese of Austin so that it can continue to provide its ministries and services which benefit all of the parishes in the diocese. The CSA provides a substantial amount to the budget and the daily expenses the diocese incurs. These monies go to support educating our 41 seminarians who are studying to be priests, supports the formation and education of men studying to be deacons, helps with religious education programs in the diocese and Catholic Schools, and many other charitable works of the diocese.

This Thursday and Friday we will have a special two-evening healing mission with Paul Rymniak. Please pray for all who attend and for God's healing Spirit to be upon them. See the attached flyer for more information.

Our readings today speak to us about giving with a generous and joyful attitude. Notice that in the first reading from the Book of Kings and also from the gospel taken from the Gospel of Mark, these women give all that they had. What trust and faith in God they must have had in order to give the all that they had to give. It reminds me of our ancestors, who gave so much to build the churches we have today. Most of them gave not from any surplus monies, but they gave until they could give no more. Just like most of our ancestors, the women in today's readings were neglected, mistreated, and had to deal with many injustices in society. But, they still listened to what was told them and trusted that God would work things out in some way. Do we listen? Do we have that kind of trust in God? It seems that in today's world many people only want to give when they have something left over and giving to God seems to come last in their priorities. I am very proud of the parishioners here at Holy Trinity who do have that same faith and trust in God and give with a generous and joyful spirit. It is a sign that we truly believe in God's love and in His generosity to us. May all of us grow to have such faith. Thank you for the witness you give to God's presence in your life.

Wednesday is Veteran's Day. Please pray for all veterans who have served our country by serving in the Armed Forces. Please also continue to pray for the Souls in Purgatory during this month of November as we remember those who have died. May they rest in peace.
