Dear friends in Christ,

Peace be with you! The summer break will soon come to an end for our children and they will be preparing to return to school and to religious education classes. Let us pray for all of our children that they may be always protected by their guardian angels and experience the love of God in their life, especially through the love of their parents.

The question arises from time to time whether Catholics may be cremated. The answer is "yes." At one time the Catholic Church did not allow cremation because it was seen as a denial of the resurrection of the body. Pagans would cremate their dead and they did not believe in the resurrection of the body. So, the Catholic Church forbade cremations for this reason. However, this is not the case anymore. Most Catholics believe in the resurrection of the body. The 1983 Code of Canon Law states: "The Church earnestly recommends the pious custom of burial be retained; but it does not forbid cremation, unless this is chosen for reasons which are contrary to Christian teaching" (no. 1176). The Catholic Church still recommends burial of the body in a cemetery or mausoleum, but, it does allow cremation. The Church states that the body should be brought to the church for the funeral Mass and then afterwards it may be taken for cremation. After cremation the ashes should be placed in a container or urn and then buried in a place that has been consecrated, such as a cemetery or mausoleum or columbarium. The ashes should not be kept at home or divided among family members or put into jewelry to wear on one's body. Also, the ashes (cremains) should never be spread out over the land or thrown into a pond or lake. As Catholics, let us show proper respect for our bodies during life and after death as well.

In today's readings Elisha and Jesus both feed thousands of people. As we read about the life of Jesus we see that Jesus did everything that the prophets did and much more. It was a sign that His calling was from God and not of His own doing. Do our lives reflect the life of Jesus? Do we do what He did? Do we say what He said? As Christians we should do what Jesus did. It is a sign of His presence within us. Jesus fed thousands of people in today's gospel. Now He feeds millions of people (there are over 1.5 Billion Catholics in the world) every day with His Body and Blood that we receive in Holy Communion. As He feeds us, do we allow ourselves to grow into His image and likeness or to we stifle that growth because of our sins? Jesus wants us to have a healthy spiritual and earthly life. That is one reason why He gave us the Church, that is why He gave us His Body and Blood, and that is why He gave us, through the Church, the Sacred Scriptures. Let us offer Him thanks and praise for giving us all the assistance we need. All we have to do is to accept that assistance and seek to be strengthened by it by living in obedience to our Lord.

K ZAMYŠLENÍ: Ježíš ví, co chce udělat. V lukách nad Galilejským mořem opravdu nešlo nakupovat pro velký dav. Ale potřebuje demonstrovat význam a smysl nasycení. Nejen v rámci výletu, ale zážitek nasycení Bohem. Dostatek bez nutnosti vše uhradit je znamením nebe. Bůh má moc člověka učinit šťastným, má moc dát mu zdarma plnost. Jen člověk se Boží nabídkou musí otevřít. Nechat se Bohem „obsloužit“.

Décimo Séptimo Domingo del Tiempo Ordinario: Este domingo escuchamos la gran historia de la multiplicación de los panes y peces. Esta historia fue tan importante que cada Evangelio la tiene y tanto Mateo como Marcos cuentan dos historias de multiplicación. Claramente, Jesús quiere que aprendamos algo! Una lección importante es que Dios nos provee de lo que necesitamos, no necesariamente de lo que queremos, sino lo que necesitamos. Otra cosa es que los estudiosos de la escritura sugieren que la multiplicación pasó por que la gente que estaba acumulando comida comenzó a compartir lo que tenían cuando vieron que Jesús estaba rompiendo y compartiendo lo poco que le había dado un niño. El milagro de la acción de Dios consistió en cambiar los corazón, no sólo en estirar los recursos limitados ¿Qué generosidad puede que Dios esté pidiendo de usted?

May all of you have a most blessed week.

In Christ, Fr. Stephen Nestrta, farář

Prayer for the Diocese of Austin Year of the Domestic Church

O God, creator of all, you ordered the earth to bring forth life and crowned its goodness by creating the human family. In history's moment when all was ready, you sent your Son to dwell in time, "practicing the virtues of family life and in the bonds of charity." Teach us the sanctity of human love; show us the value of the Domestic Church; and help us to live in peace with all people, that we may share in your life forever. With the intercession of St. Joseph, Patron of the Universal Church, we ask this through Christ the Lord. Amen.
